“BHHS Academic Rankings” [Issue #1404]

Many thanks to Peter Ostroff and Bob Wunderlich regarding the information about the BHUSD schools contained in the August 26 Beverly Hills Weekly.

Both Peter and Bob did an excellent job in the analysis of where the BHUSD schools stand in relation to other school districts.

Given the quarterly reports in Beverly Hills Weekly of the amounts of money paid to various law firms I wonder if anyone has done an analysis of how much per student the BHUSD pays to various law firms and how that compares with other school districts.

Ira M. Friedman
Beverly Hills

As Beverly Hills residents, we are accustomed to hearing criticism when something goes wrong in our schools. What we should not expect is criticism that ignores the evidence when things are improving.

In his opinion editorial in Issue #1404, columnist Peter Ostroff relies heavily on a “data chart” using US World & News Report rankings that answers a different question and should not be used to negate newer California Department of Education assessment results.

The California Department of Education has published its 2024–25 academic results, including English Language Arts and mathematics, through the California School Dashboard and CAASPP reporting. California describes the Dashboard as its accountability and continuous-improvement system for evaluating how schools and districts are meeting the needs of their students.

Those current results tell a considerably more encouraging story than Mr. Ostroff's editorial suggests. The official CAASPP results show that Beverly Hills High School's percentage of students meeting or exceeding standards increased from 61.73% to 67.27% in ELA between 2023–24 and 2024–25. Mathematics likewise increased from 48.20% to 52.14%. This represents a 5.54-percentage-point increase in ELA and a 3.94-percentage-point increase in mathematics. California's CAASPP system is the state's official assessment program for ELA and mathematics.

The 2025 California School Dashboard also provides important context. BHUSD's ELA performance is in the state's Blue category, the highest Dashboard performance level. The Dashboard is specifically designed to provide communities with current performance information and identify both strengths and areas needing improvement. Mathematics remains an area where continued improvement is necessary, and no responsible person should suggest that a school district has reached the finish line. BVMS received both a “Schools to Watch” distinction, and later a “California Distinguished Schools” distinction, both of which were overlooked by Mr. Ostroff.

We should evaluate the district honestly, using the newest available evidence, and acknowledge both progress and remaining challenges. This is also why it is important to distinguish between the California Department of Education's accountability data and a national magazine's ranking.

U.S. News & World Report's 2025–26 ranking of Beverly Hills High School incorporates multiple factors, including assessment performance, graduation rates and college-readiness measures. A national ranking can be useful information, but it is not the same thing as California's official accountability system, nor does it purport to be a substitute for the state's most recent assessment results.

The problem, therefore, is not that U.S. News has a ranking. The problem is treating a third-party ranking—or an older snapshot of data—as though it were dispositive of the district's current academic performance. It isn't.

Mr. Ostroff is entitled to criticize BHUSD and ask difficult questions. What he should not do is present a selective snapshot as though it were the complete and current picture. If we genuinely care about the future of our schools, our public discussion should begin with the most recent facts available—not with outdated numbers or a single third-party ranking. We should acknowledge where BHUSD is succeeding, identify where it still needs to improve, and then have the harder conversation about what we do next.

Resurfaced Social Media Posts Draw Attention to School Board Candidate Kim Lifschitz

Social media posts involving Board of Education candidate Kim Lifschitz have resurfaced as she campaigns for one of two seats.

One post from 2020 shows Lifschitz reading her child a bedtime story featuring The Socialist Manifesto.

One commenter in the post recommended that Lifschitz read the Bible. Lifschitz responded by criticizing the Bible, claiming it depicts violence, sexual assault and incest and described Jesus as a “character guy” who is a socialist who engaged in property damage as a form of protest against capitalism.

Lifschitz has now clarified in a group chat that the post was an “inside joke to friends and family during the 2020 Republican National Convention,” as a form of “counterprogramming” because she believed the “RNC was so far-right and fascistic” she “felt it would be funny to post the exact opposite.”

“This past fall, almost a year before I announced my campaign, a sitting BHUSD board member stalked my personal Instagram and took a screenshot of a post from six years ago, which was a joke intended for family and friends. The photo was of my then two-year old ‘reading’ a book (which is often assigned as a textbook to college students), about socialism in response to the alarming rhetoric of the 2020 Republican National Convention. The photo was then run through AI to garble the text and add a red fist to the cover art -- the real cover contains no such thing -- and circulated to hundreds of people via several group chats. I am a Democrat who reads everything she can get her hands on, not a socialist,” Lifschitz said in a comment to the Weekly.

In an earlier statement about her campaign, Lifschitz said she had spoken with Beverly Hills residents across different age groups and backgrounds and said she frequently heard concerns that the school board needed to be “functional, not factional.”

“I’m running for the Board of Education to put students first, restore trust in the district, and govern responsibly,” Lifschitz previously said. She also said decisions should be made with students and the community in mind and without “outside influence or personal agendas.”

Another social media post involving Lifschitz’s husband, Daniel Lifschitz, also has drawn attention. In the post, he wrote that he wanted to make “some MAGA folks on the school board feel bad” and said he appeared on a livestream hosted by political commentator Hasan Piker.

Kim clarified this week in a group chat message obtained by the Weekly that Daniel never appeared on the podcast. She said he was included in a Fox 11 clip featuring comments he made publicly at a Board of Education meeting as part of the station’s coverage of an antisemitism resolution last year.

“The post regarding my husband contains a blatant, dangerous lie. Dan spoke at a board meeting in August 2025 regarding the district's antisemitism resolution and the harm it could cause -- a concern that was shared by district leadership. Fox 11 News featured him on their broadcast, and Hasan Piker watched the clip on his livestream. The post claiming he ‘appeared on Piker's podcast’ is a lie and has already resulted in threatening messages directed at my husband and myself. When Dan said he wanted to make ‘some MAGA folks on the school board feel bad,’ he was referring to showing the board the consequences of not listening to the community when he warned them that the resolution would result in a wave of antisemitism, which it did. Dan posted it along with the comment ‘This timeline is ridiculous.’ And he's right,” Kim said.

Beverly Hills Homeowners Sue City Over Short-Term Rental Ban

A group of homeowners have filed a lawsuit challenging the city’s restrictions on short term rentals.

“The Beverly Hills Vacation Rental Alliance” filed the lawsuit, arguing that the ordinance, which prohibits homeowners from renting their properties for periods of less than 12 months, violates the U.S. and California constitutions.

The alliance claims the ordinance limits homeowners’ ability to use and rent their properties and has eliminated an income source for some residents.

The plaintiffs further argue that the hotel industry lobbied for the ban to reduce competition.

The plaintiffs are asking the court to declare the ordinance unconstitutional and permanently prevent the city from enforcing its restrictions.

One plaintiff identified in the lawsuit is Deborah Blum, a retired resident who owns and lives in Locke House, a historic property on Rodeo Drive.

"I've welcomed guests into Locke House for nearly twenty years, the same home where I was born and raised and where my father once hosted stars of old Hollywood. On a fixed income, hosting is how I cover the upkeep and keep this historic house in my family. When the city banned short-term and mid-term renting, I, like many other residents in this city, lost the income I've depended on for years. I haven't even been able to find a long-term tenant to replace it," said Blum, Founder and President of the Beverly Hills Vacation Rental Alliance. "That's why the Rental Alliance is challenging the city’s ordinance — this rental ban strips homeowners of the right to decide who we welcome into our own homes, and we're asking the court to overturn it so residents like me can afford to stay in the homes we love."

Last month, the City Council decided not to move forward with a temporary exemption to the city’s short-term rental rules for the 2028 Olympic and Paralympic Games, citing concerns about impacts on residential neighborhoods, enforcement and the cost of a temporary program.

BHUSD Teachers Union to Not Endorse in Board Race

The Beverly Hills Education Association, the teachers union representing BHUSD, has chosen not to endorse any candidates in the Board of Education race.

“The BHEA Rep Council had a spirited and thoughtful discussion about whether to endorse candidates for the upcoming school board election. Each representative brought their own perspective and reasons for how they felt BHEA should proceed, and there was a wide range of viewpoints expressed during the discussion. The decision reflects the collective vote of the representatives, with each member making their own decision based on the information and perspectives they brought to the discussion,” President Katherine Warren said.

Traffic Commission to Consider Turn Restrictions on N. Linden Drive

is expected to discuss a resident-requested traffic calming measure that would restrict left turns at N. Linden Drive and N. Santa Monica Boulevard, at its Thursday meeting.

The proposal would make permanent, 24-hour restrictions that currently prohibit left turns from eastbound N. Santa Monica Boulevard onto northbound N. Linden Drive on weekdays from 4 to 7 p.m. It would also prohibit left turns from southbound N. Linden Drive onto eastbound N. Santa Monica Boulevard.

The request comes from residents concerned about cut-through traffic on N. Linden Drive. A 2024 study found the street was being used by commuters traveling to the Flats and accessing Sunset Boulevard.

A subsequent traffic analysis found that adding a physical turn island would reduce daily traffic on N. Linden Drive between Santa Monica Boulevard and Carmelita Avenue by 54%, with a 63% reduction during the evening peak hour. Traffic between Carmelita and Elevado avenues is projected to decline by 42% daily and 39% during the evening peak hour.

The proposal has received support from more than the required 70% of households on the two blocks considered most affected. Fifteen of 19 households on the 500 block of N. Linden Drive and 19 of 24 households on the 600 block signed a petition supporting the restriction, with both blocks reporting 79% support.

The commission is expected to provide a recommendation to the City Council.

Beverly Hills Approves City Shield Use for Autumn BBQ Fundraiser

The Beverly Hills City Council approved the continued use of the city’s shield by chef Wolfgang Puck and the Maybourne Hotel for the second annual Beverly Hills Autumn BBQ fundraiser.

The private, ticketed event is scheduled for Oct. 18 at Beverly Cañon Gardens and is expected to draw more than 250 guests. Proceeds will benefit No Kid Hungry, a national nonprofit focused on ending childhood hunger. Last year’s event raised $42,000 for the organization.

The city previously approved the use of a modified version of the Beverly Hills Shield for the 2025 event and waived its standard $5,000 licensing fee. The renewed agreement maintains those terms and again requests that the city be listed as a sponsor in event marketing.

The shield will be used on promotional materials, signage, hats and aprons. This year, organizers also received approval to sell up to 300 hats featuring the modified shield in three colors. The hats will sell for $35, with $23.85 from each sale going to No Kid Hungry.

The event will be co-presented by Spago Beverly Hills and the Maybourne Hotel and will feature Puck and other chefs, including Dominique Crenn, Damon Gordon and Nancy Silverton. Tickets are expected to range from $300 to $550.

The event is not intended to operate as a for-profit venture, and organizers said proceeds will be directed to the nonprofit.

porary musical influences. Las Migas has received multiple Latin Grammy Awards, including recognition for its latest album, “Flamencas.”

The Beverly Hills performance will feature music from “Flamencas,” which draws on traditional flamenco while incorporating modern elements.

City Council Postpones Approval of Replacement Tree for Coldwater Cañon Drive

The City Council

Chinese Pistache

postponed the discussion for an update to the Street Tree Master Plan to fill currently vacant sites on Coldwater Cañon Drive because it did not have time.

The update would have approved the Chinese Pistache tree as a replacement when future Canary Island Pine trees are lost in the future.

The tree was selected following a city-led survey of property owners.

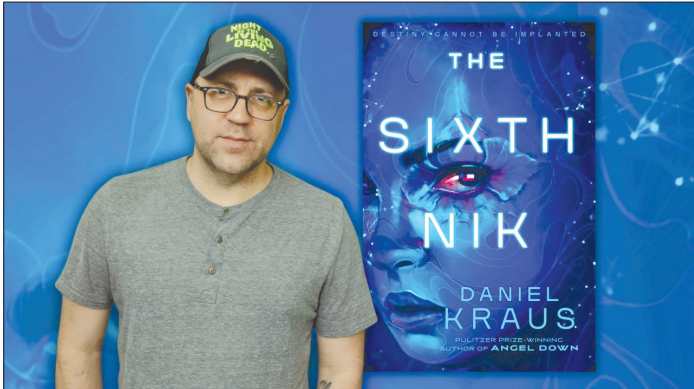

The 75-year-old Canary Island pines have declined due to drought and insects and are considered unsuitable for the area because Coldwater Cañon Drive is in a Very High Fire Hazard Severity Zone.

The city surveyed owners of 67 properties, receiving 43 responses. Of those, 21 selected Chinese pistache, 12 chose holly oak and four chose Sky Climber oak. Six requested no replacement tree. The Public Works Commission voted 3-1 on June 11 to support Chinese pistache.

About 50 tree sites are currently vacant. Healthy Canary Island pines would remain in place and be monitored. If approved, the city estimates replacement trees at about $2,000 each, or roughly $100,000 to fill the vacant sites.

Beverly Hills Fire Department Awarded International Re-Accreditation

The Beverly Hills Fire Department (BHFD) has received Re-Accredited Agency status with the Commission on Fire Accreditation International (CFAI). According to the city, BHFD is only one of 334 agencies to achieve Internationally Accredited agency status with the CFAI and the Center for Public Safety Excellence, Inc. (CPSE). Beverly Hills is only 1 of 127 agencies that holds both a Class-1 ISO rating, and accredited status; and only 1 of four agencies within the county to be accredited. “Our accreditation is a tremendous achievement and a reflection of the dedication of the men and women of the Beverly Hills Fire Department,” said Fire Chief Greg Barton. “The process challenged us to take an honest and comprehensive assessment at how we serve the community, identify opportunities for improvement, and establish a clear roadmap for the future. I am incredibly proud of our personnel and grateful to everyone who contributed to this award.” The city was first accredited in 2021. The process occurs every five years and is a two-year process.

BHUSD Teaching Gems

The gems of the Beverly Hills Unified School District are the many wonderful faculty and staff members.

I want to tell you about two of the very best, Annette Levy Goldstein of Horace Mann and Pete Van Rossum of BHHS. Incredibly and coincidentally both are in their 33d year of teaching in our special District.

Annette is in her eighth year of teaching our four year olds in Transitional Kindergarten (T-K) which is a public-school year between preschool and regular kindergarten. All children who turn four on or before September 1 of the school year are eligible.

From early childhood, Annette assisted her school teacher mother with her class work and knew that she wanted to be a teacher. After obtaining her undergraduate degree and an Arizona teaching certificate from the University of Arizona, she obtained a Master's degree and California teaching certificate. She chose National University's program because they offered evening classes. She worked as a long-term substitute teacher in San Diego during the day while attending classes at night to complete the master's degree program.

She was hired immediately as a counselor in our District and over the next few years taught at every level at Horace Mann except for First Grade. She is a mom of two children and believes that the job of a school teacher is a great job for a mom.

I can speak from experience that this is true. My mom Ann Littman Ostroff taught for many years in the public schools of Washington, DC and loved it. I loved having a mom who was a school teacher (just not at my school).

The District offers three T-K classes at Horace Mann and three at El Rodeo. Each has a maximum of twenty children and a teacher and a teacher's aide.

Annette's enthusiasm for her work is infectious. She loves her work as a T-K teacher. She defines her objective as "making kids happy and feel safe at school." From all reports, she succeeds magnificently.

She explains that if a class is fun, safe, creative and collaborative, the students will tend to feel gratification and that they are smart. And she says that each one of her students believes that they are her favorite. While she has no favorites, she loves that they feel that way. She is concerned that our children seem to live more structured lives which leaves little time for them to just have play time and be kids.

I asked her what has changed over the more than three decades of her Horace Mann career. Surprisingly, technology takes a backseat to the fact that in today's families both parents work so each child tends to have a support network of several people. And she is one of them.

By the same token, Annette is very grateful for her Horace Mann family. She explained that she, like everyone of us, has gone through very challenging times and her Horace Mann family has always been her support system.

She notes that while technology is not really a part of the education of T-K students, email and texting are very useful in communicating with parents and other educators.

With respect to the District, she speaks very positively about the emphasis on small class size which gives Horace Mann a private school feel. She feels that Superintendent Alex Cherniss knows her and other teachers and listens to them. She observes that families are very invested in the community and the community comes together to celebrate the good things. A downside of declining enrollment, however, is that there are fewer choices and opportunities.

Annette notes that there is an undesirable level of tolerance of punctuality or disciplinary issues. Her feeling is that there is undue emphasis on minimizing records of punctuality and discipline for the purpose of winning awards. She regrets that the District has curtailed or ended allowing teachers to attend professional development conferences.

Pete Van Rossum teaches AP European History to tenth graders and government and economics to seniors.

He grew up in Orange County and by his description was not an engaged or successful student. After working for a few years after high school, he returned to school in his early 20s and immediately became engaged and successful. He received an undergraduate degree, a master's degree and his teaching credential from UCLA.

He did student teaching at BHHS and has stayed ever since. He says that BHHS is unique because of the community values education. He points out that the school has magnificent resources and many very positive role models exist in the community. He regrets, however, the diminishing enrollment while allowing for more focus on detail, means that the talent pool is not as deep as it once was.

Pete says that the best part of his job is that he gets to work with ideas on a daily basis and that there is always something to learn. He finds that observing his students begin to think like adults is very rewarding. He tries to impart to them the importance of things like a free press and a fair justice system and the fact that they can all go away if we do not protect them.

On the other hand, he feels that disciplinary standards have diminished and that there is much too much bureaucratic oversight from the federal and state government levels down to the District level. He also regrets that the Board of Education is so divided but notes that there are no easy answers.

And there is the issue of artificial intelligence and how it is used by students. He observes that a serious problem with its use, for example, to write analytical reports is that it deprives the user with the long term memory of such an analysis. Because the student did not do the analysis. Also, policing the improper use is time consuming and very difficult. But, sooner or later, the student must take an exam in which no outside sources are available and that's where the piper must be paid (my metaphor, not Pete's).

So he left me with this quote from H.L. Mencken that he displays in his office:

"For every complex problem there is an answer that is clear, simple, and wrong."

For someone (me) who is always striving to bring you an observation or two that will inform, the Beverly Hills Unified School District during the Presidency of Judith Manouchehri is the gift that keeps on giving.

This note comes under the heading:

"You just can't make this stuff up."

BHUSD recently published a puff piece entitled "BHUSD INSIGHT An official publication of the Beverly Hills Unified School District, Volume 1, Issue 1, Summer 2026. A New Era of Excellence."

My suspicion is that this piece of propaganda was prepared at District expense and is used as a handout for Ms. Manouchehri's electioneering.

The heading on page 2 reads "Academic Excellence by Every Measure" and goes on to make claims of achievement. These claims included "11 National Merit Scholars Finalist (sic)". In fact, there were TWO National Merit Scholarship Finalists. This exaggeration was corrected later on the website to read "11 National Merit Commended Students." OK – everyone makes mistakes.

But then this self-proclaimed tribute that gives new meaning to the term "excellence" goes on to provide (with no context or explanation) a series of "Highest Scores Since 2017".

The one that caught my eye right after +4% in English Language Arts was: "+5% Mathematics"

Now it has been a very long time since I learned how to spell the word "mathematics" but my strong suspicion is that the spelling has not changed. Check it out. That embarrassing error is still on the BHUSD.org website.

[I must credit former Commissioner and engaged resident Rich Waldow for bringing this to my attention.]

And we wonder why this Board of Education has presided over a continued decline in our rankings that we can only hope to arrest with a change in leadership.

ONE DEAD FOLLOWING ALTERCATION IN BEVERLY HILLS ALLEY

By Danielle Berjikian

A man died after an altercation involving two men in an alley Sunday night, according to the Beverly Hills Police Department. Based on the evidence gathered during the investigation, 19-year-old Conoray Lawantara of Beverly Hills was arrested on suspicion of murder.

Officers responded to the 400 block of North Palm Drive at about 11:39 p.m. Aug. 30 after receiving a report of an altercation. They found a homeless man suffering from a neck wound and paramedics transported him to a local hospital, where he later died.

Lawantara was also injured and transported to a local hospital.

"Our officers responded quickly to this incident and immediately rendered aid to both individuals," said Beverly Hills Chief of Police Max Subin. "Our detectives are conducting a thorough and diligent investigation to determine the circumstances surrounding this tragic incident. The Beverly Hills Police Department remains committed to ensuring the safety of our community and holding those responsible for violence accountable."

Neighbors reported that the victim had been going through trash cans. Videos recorded at the scene show Lawantara telling officers that the man grabbed at him, which he claims prompted him to use a knife.

City Council Postpones Planning Commission Appointment

The City Council pulled an agenda item that would have appointed Jason Grant to the Planning Commission at its Tuesday meeting.

The item was pulled because city staff indicated they had received correspondence regarding the process for recruiting commissioners, and staff will revisit these compliance issues.

Grant was expected to replace former Commissioner Myra Demeter, whose term ended June 30. Grant is the Founder and Principal at Local Development LLC.

If you are an “eligible tenant buyer,” you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an “eligible bidder,” you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 148967-CA to find the date on which the trustee’s sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee’s sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee’s sale. If you think you may qualify as an “eligible tenant buyer” or “eligible bidder,” you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. The undersigned or its predecessor caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder’s office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (855) 313-3319 or visit this Internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 149437-CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective January 1, 2021, you may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an “eligible tenant buyer,” you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an “eligible bidder,” you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (855) 313-3319, or visit this internet website www.clearreconcorp.com, using the file number assigned to this case 149437-CA to find the date on which the trustee’s sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee.
